Software Development Supervisor

Augusoft, Inc., the leading technology provider of web-based software products and services for lifelong learning educational programs, is seeking a Software Development Supervisor in its Golden Valley, MN office to monitor and review all software developed internally and by off-shore consultants. Position requires a bachelor’s degree in computer science or related field plus two years of professional IT experience using Rational Rose Use Case methodology, Cold Fusion development using Fusebox Architecture, and T-Sql development. Further requires one year of experience directing an off shore software development team. Send cover/resume to itjobs@augusoft.net.